BARTON.

You want a good clean shave, go to Cassidy's. He will shave you so when you get through you won't feel you had been butchered.

The up-mail train, last Thursday night, delayed 7 hours in consequence of a light train being off the track below Johnsonbury.

In connection with the exercises at Brick church, Tuesday Eve., Dec. 11, Aella Green of Springfield, Mass., expected to read one of his best poems. Good time is expected.

Thirty-two couples—some from the village and some from this place—met at John Arley's, last Wednesday evening, for a good time. Dancing and eyes were the order of the evening.

The recent snows have started the water from the mountain side, and Mosin's mill, which for a time had no work to do, is again under full headway. The chair sticks are flying in all directions.

On the business directory painted on the wall, by L. R. Wood, Jr., and hanging at the Post Office there is no stenciling, as many suppose, but the letters are all done with a brush.

Two more runaways last Thursday evening. One single team loaded with hay and iron; the other, two horses in a logging sled; the first belonging to Geo. W. McGaffey, of Glover and the second to John G. Hall of this town. Great excitement. Nobody hurt.

THEY'RE COMING.—McLear's Star aggregation and Brass Band. Will exhibit at Town Hall next Wednesday and Thursday evenings, (Dec. 18 & 19.) Judging from the appearance of their uniforms and their style of advertising, we judge it will be a good show, such as rarely comes this way. A gentleman in this place who saw it in Canada a few weeks ago also pronounces it an excellent show.

It is generally understood by traveling men that Barton has no Hall, and therefore many troupes pass by that would otherwise call. This is a mistake. Although not the best hall that ever was, once the Academy has been repaired, and the stairway which before cut the hall in two in the middle, taken out, it is a very fair one, commodious enough to accommodate all who would be likely to attend anything that travels.

Mr. E. B. Simonds has been canvassing the town of Glover for the book entitled "The Great Industries of the United States," and with such success as he could not have attained, only for the intrinsic value of the book. He this morning showed us the names of sixty of the solid men of Glover. He will soon canvass this town, when we bespeak for him the success he and the book deserves.

At the annual meeting of Orleans County No. 55 Barton Vt., the following officers were elected for the year ensuing: J. P. Baldwin, W. M.; H. McMillen, S. W.; Martin Batchelder, J. W.; H. Dwinell, Secretary; J. E. Skinner, Treasurer; Geo. Bush, S. D.; O. V. Polyn, J. D.; W. T. Wiggins, W. C. Brown, D. W. Robinson, Stewards; W. Robinson, Tyler; H. Pierce, Marshall; Emory Cook, Chaplain; E. E. Dawson, Organist.

Let all who wish to enjoy a good time and listen to an interesting lecture, tomorrow evening, attend the Festival at Masonic Hall. Prof. Rix and Mr. & Mrs. Beelle, we understand are to be present to enliven the musical part of the entertainment. Let no one stay at home.

Our citizens were startled two weeks ago last Saturday, by the announcement by telegraph, of the death of J. Boardman French, an estimable young man, formerly of and well known in this village, who died of bilious fever, in the West—Brainerd, Minnesota, near Lake Superior—the 20th of last month, where he went only a few months since, and was in the employ of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. His remains arrived last Tuesday evening, and were carried to their last resting place in the cemetery near this village, Thursday afternoon. He was a son of the late Judge F. S. French—one of the best men the town ever had—who died a little over a year ago. This sudden and unexpected blow came heavily upon his mother and only sister who still live in this village, and have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community.

BARTON LANDING.

The second lecture of our course was given by Rev. S. K. B. Perkins of Glover on Friday evening—his subject, "The Anti-Slavery Reform, of England," was treated in a careful and interesting manner, giving brief sketches of the most prominent among them—Richard Baxter, Granville Sharp, Wilberforce, Clarkson, and Buxton, making reference to those who came to their support like Pitt, Cox, Burke. He gave a general history of that glorious struggle which commenced with the question of universal freedom in England itself, and ended in the overthrow of the slave trade and of slavery in all English Colonies. He closed with an elegant tribute to our own soldiers who lately imperiled life and treasure for their country, by which this land has just been freed from the great curse by shorter though severer means than those of the Mother Country.

The next lecture is to be Friday the 20th, by Dr. Cutting of Lunenburg.

BROWNINGTON.

S. R. Jenkins has rented his house at the Center to Mr. Sleeper.

Mr. George Rice has rented his farm to Mr. Currier of Island Pond for three years.

S. J. Robinson has sold his farm at the Center to his father J. J. Robinson, for $1000.

COVENTRY.

A few nights since Abel Fairbrother lost a good horse by the "epizoot."

The winter term of the village school commenced last Monday; Miss Blodgett of Glover and Miss Wilcox of Albany, teachers.

CHARLESTON.

A singing school has been started at West Charleston by W. N. Donaldson of Derby.

E. O. Bennett has received the appointment of postmaster vice E. H. Robinson.

The course of lectures in this place commenced on Wednesday evening, the 11th inst., by Col. J. B. Mead of Randolph, who gave an able and eloquent lecture on temperance. The next will be given by Gen. W. W. Grout of Barton, Tuesday evening, the 17. A number of the best lecturers in this section have been engaged, and it is hoped that the lectures will be as well attended as they deserve.

DERBY.

Blazing Star Lodge will give a public exhibition and entertainment on Friday evening, Dec. 27. All come, as the cause is a worthy one.

Charles Bates recently caught in a trap a large owl, which measured 4 1/4 feet from tip to tip of wings. He was supposed to be a species of the cat owl.

Fred Butterfield has sold his hotel at Derby Line to H. B. Hanson, formerly of the firm of Hanson & French. Mr. H. takes possession immediately.

GLOVER.

David Cass killed a hog last week, 18 months old, that weighed 626 pounds.

The measles are again raging to some extent in town. None are dangerously sick with the disease.

A horse belonging to Dr. Hill dropped dead passing along the highway a few days since. No cause is assigned for its death.

Hiram Phillips left town last Saturday for Boston. He goes to seek medical aid for his wrist which has been troubling him for three years.

The annual convention of the Orleans County Musical Association will be held at Glover, commencing Tuesday, Jan. 21, and continuing four days. L. O. Emerson, conductor. Complete programme will be furnished in due time.

Lyman Darling's horse took fright at the village a few evenings since, while hitched under the store shed. In breaking away from his fastenings both shafts of the sleigh were broken, and in this condition he went for home on the "double quick," the broken shafts being held from the ground by the hold-backs.

A whole souled and warm hearted subscriber in West Glover sends to us a few cheerful and encouraging lines, for which we should be ungrateful did we not return our thanks. We give his words and leave our readers to judge if they do not smack of honest contentment and the true ring of friendship.

OUR COUNTY PAPER—THE MONITOR.—As the year 1872 has nearly expired, and the new year is close at hand, it is our duty, as citizens, to take hold with a will and give the MONITOR a hearty support the coming year. Let every man act as agent for it. If he has a neighbor who does not take it, urge him to subscribe for it. There is no one who is not able to take it and pay for it—let no one say I do not like this nor that. Who, that has ten or twelve hundred customers to deal with, can please them all? It is not to be expected by any reasonable man. Our Editor has given us the paper nearly a year, and as far as I know, has given universal satisfaction. Now let every man in the county, and others, showing their appreciation of its merits by heartily supporting it.

A SUBSCRIBER.

GREENSBORO.

The population of this village at present is not far from 125 persons. The business directory would include 3 wheelwrights, 1 blacksmith, 1 clergyman, 2 physicians, 2 shoemakers, 1 harness maker, 1 sash and blind manufacturer, 3 merchants, 1 hotel keeper, 1 miller, 2 or 3 gentlemen of leisure, 8 or 9 dogs, besides others of inferior craft. The public buildings are not numerous, being only 5 churches, a school house, and a town house. There are 3 principal streets which converge at the center between the hotel and post-office. The chief amusements of the villagers are quills and croquet in summer, and checkers and — in winter, spiced with gossip, &c., to suit the taste. There are two or three persons of venerable age, and several substantial, active, and thinking business men. The markets are a little close, and money is held at from 8 to 12 per cent, notwithstanding law to the contrary. But little crime is known, and the local courts hold only occasional sessions. No murder or robbery has yet taken place this winter, though some of the dogs have been threatened. Nearly every family is supplied with an abundance of good water, and the tenement houses are in good condition. The married generally live peaceably, and the unmarried of both sexes make the best of it. The dogs are thought to be handsome and their fine will be valuable. The U. S. mail bag for North Greensboro occasionally passes through the place with an amount of mail matter which only the post-office officials can understand. It is said to be a marvel of postal service in this region. All of which is respectfully submitted. Yours, &c., —

HOLLAND.

On the 7th inst., a child three years old, son of Morrill and Emeline Perkins, died from the effects of a scald four weeks previous by sitting down in a pail of hot water.

The new school house in district No. 6, which will be the best in town, is completed, ready for the painters, but owing to the lateness of the season will not be painted until spring. School commenced in the 10th, so that now there is a school in all the districts in town.

Samuel McWhirter has sold his interest in the saw mill and lands, owned by McWhirter & Baldwin, to Mr. Caswell of Barnston, P. Q., for $3000. Wm. R. Ward has sold his place to G. W. & A. R. Gregory, price $1200. Henry C. Baxter has sold the west half of lot 11, range 2 to Hiram H. Elliott for $300.

IRASBURGH.

H. C. Waller sells all his $3,000 worth of goods at auction Thursday and Saturday of this week, afternoon and evening. See poster.

Mr. Eben Grant lately killed an eight months old pig that dressed 376 pounds. The same day J. B. Clement killed one seven months old which dressed 338 lbs. These pigs were bought, when small, of H. H. Stevens. He keeps the kind to buy.

E. W. Powell announces his Annual New Years' Ball at the Irasburgh House, for Wednesday eve., January 1, 1873, and invites all to attend, feeling confident that he will be able to so entertain them that they will have no cause to regret that they were there. Music by Burdick and Davis' Quadrille Band.

ST. JOHNSBURY.

Josh Billings is to lecture here on the evening of the 18th. Subject, "What I know about hotels."

The second entertainment of the Y. M. C. A. course, consisting of the reading by Prof. J. M. Churchill of humorous selections, was at the Town Hall last Friday evening. Mr. Murray, who failed to arrive here to fulfill his former engagement, writes that he will deliver his lecture at some future day.

SUTTON.

The oyster supper given last Thursday night by the Ladies' Society gave them about $25.00 above expenses.

Richard Jenness, our new landlord, gives an oyster supper on New Year's eve. Tickets $1.00 per couple. Let's give him a full house.

The school at the village taught by Mr. E. M. Campbell, commenced Dec. 2, and has about fifty-five scholars in attendance. Rev. Elisha Brown of Montpelier teaches the North Ridge school. This is his fifty-third term of teaching.

SHEFFIELD.

J. Olin Ingalls sends the following item to the Lyndon Union: "Friday, the 29th of Nov., the day of the first big snow storm. I missed three of my turkeys. After hunting for them Saturday and Sunday I gave them up as lost. On Tuesday afternoon last, I happened to be crossing a drift over a brook running near my barn and slumped through four feet into the bed of the brook. After drawing myself up I looked down the hole, and there stood one of the turkeys, all right. After digging with a shovel for about half an hour I found the other two, all in good trim, having lain under four feet of snow from Friday until Tuesday night."

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO.

A hundred years ago the United States were the most loyal part of the British empire, and on the political horizon no speck indicated the struggle which, within a score of years thereafter, established this great republic of the world. A hundred years ago there were but four newspapers in America. Steam engines had not been imagined, and railroads and telegraphs had not entered into the remotest conceptions of man.

One hundred and ten years ago there was not a single white man in Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. Then what is now the most flourishing part of America, was a little known as the country around the mysterious mountains of the moon. It was not until 1767 that Daniel Boone left his home in North Carolina to become the first settler in Kentucky. The first pioneer of Ohio did not settle until twenty years after this.

A hundred years ago Canada belonged to France, and the population did not exceed a million and a half of people. A hundred years ago, the great Frederick of Prussia was performing those grand exploits which have made him immortal in military annals, and with his little army was sustaining a single-handed contest with Russia, Austria, and France, the three great powers of Europe combined. Washington was then a modest Virginia colonel, and the great events of history of the two worlds in which these great leading parts were then scarcely foreshadowed.

When we come to look back through the vista of history, we find that to the century just past has been allotted more important events, in their bearing upon the happiness of the world, than almost any other which has elapsed since the creation.

The success of the Boston Globe is one of the triumphs of modern journalism. Few papers ever sprang into so prominent a position in so short a time. —Boston Commonwealth.

A GOOD BEGINNING.—Senator Pomeroy has offered a bill, providing for the suppression of the sale of intoxicating liquors in the district of Columbia. Should Congress do this nice thing the act would be gratifying to the country, though it would undoubtedly increase the business of the express companies. A few men yet remain in Congress who need an estoppel in their throats, but this number is becoming less every year. Hard drinkers, of years past in Congress, have been dropping off by death, and the refusal of people to return such there, so that they are less plenty there now than formerly. The people are alive to the work of cleaning the drunkards out of Congress. This cannot be done with too much haste.

One Frederick Douglass, who took honest bread from the plate of Horace Greeley and then abused him, who owes a life of devotion to Charles Sumner for what the latter has done and suffered for him, his kinsfolk and race, but who has served Sumner as he did Mr. Greeley, is now very much distressed in mind because President Grant refused to listen to honest Simon Cameron, the pure Hartranft, and sundry other politicians of the same "hefty" moral status, in the matter of the Philadelphia postmaster. Fred. is anxious to know if the refusal to oblige Cameron, Hartranft, & Co. is what Pennsylvania voted for? Just now it is of small moment what Pennsylvania voted for. She voted and that ended her duty. Now she will submit to whatever may come of her vote. Fred Douglass is not the only unhappy Straight Republican, and there will be more before there are less of them.

CLOSING CRACKS IN STOVES.—It may be convenient to know a ready method of closing up cracks, which are not uncommon in cast-iron stoves; and we are assured that the following receipt is a reliable one: Good wood ashes are to be sifted through a fine sieve; to which is to be added the same quantity of clay, finely pulverized together with a little salt. The mixture is to be moistened with water enough to make a paste, and the crack of the stove filled with it. The cement does not peel off nor break away, and assumes an extreme degree of hardness after being heated. The stoves must be cold when the application is made. The same substance may be used in setting in the plates of a stove, or in fitting stove-pipes, serving to render all the joints perfectly tight.

THE ELECTORAL VOTE.—The Electors of the different States of this Union met at their respective State Capitals, on December 4th, and cast their votes for President and Vice President of the United States. The Greeley and Brown Electors, seventy-four in number, having lost their Presidential candidate by death, scattered their votes upon different gentlemen, but not one of them gave Gen. Grant a vote, thus showing that they only wanted to "clasp hands across the bloody chasm" before the election, in the hope of getting on "top of the pile." In Maryland, the nine-hundred-majority Electors cast their votes for Gov. Hendricks, of Indiana, a pronounced Democrat.

The new bridge now in course of construction over the Frith of Tay, in Scotland, will be the longest bridge in the world—longer even than the Victoria bridge, Montreal.—The Victoria bridge is 9,194 feet long, while the Tay bridge will be 10,321 making a difference in favor of Tay bridge of 1,126 feet. If the Tay bridge were eighty yards longer it would be two miles exactly, and for all intents and purposes it may therefore be called a two-mile bridge, and will have ninety piers and eighty-nine spans.

As the question has been raised as to what town in the United States may claim to be the "banner town" in the late Presidential election, it may be well to repeat the information that there were several towns in Vermont that gave only one vote against the republican nominees, while six were unanimous for Grant and Wilson. These unanimous towns were Pantown, Mendon, Coventry, Lenington, Morgan and Westmore.

THE VERMONT ELECTORS.—The Vermont electors for President and Vice President of the United States, met at Montpelier last Tuesday, and organized by the choice of Hon. Harmon Canfield of Arlington, as president, and Capt. R. H. Start of Burlington, as secretary.—Wednesday the electors met and cast the vote of Vermont for Grant and Wilson, and selected Col. Elisha P. Jewett of Montpelier, to carry the vote to Washington.

Mr. Edmunds, one of our Senators in Congress, has been elected chairman of the judicial committee—the most important, in ordinary times, of any of the standing committees of the Senate. Mr. Sumner, on account of the state of his health, gave notice that he must be excused from committee service. Messrs. Trumbull, Fenton and Schurz, have places upon committees, but do not occupy the position of chairman. It is not understood that they are not in accord with the administration.

"Pa," said a son to his father, "what is meant by 'chip of the old block'?" "Why, my son, do you ask the question?" "Because I was in England this morning, and I told them gentlemen that while hunting I saw fifty squirrels up one tree. They kept trying to make me say that I did not see but forty-nine, and because I wouldn't say so they said I was a 'chip of the old block'?" "Hem! Well, my son, they only meant that you were smart and honest. Like your pa. You can go to play now."

People are getting resolute enough in these days to insist upon their rights even against powerful corporations. The latest judicial decision of special interest to passengers on railroad cars has just been rendered at Norwich, Connecticut. A gentleman and his wife were injured in getting off a train at that place because it did not stop long enough to allow the passengers to alight in safety, and they have obtained a verdict of $1000.

The Canadian way of measuring a tree is said to be as certain as it is grotesque: Walk from the tree, looking at it from time to time between your knees. When you are able to see the top in this way, your distance from the root of the tree equals the height.

A Terre Haute boy of tender years and heart has drowned seventeen kittens, tied pans to the tails of nine dogs, brushed his father's new silk hat against the grain, and blown up a pet canary with a fire cracker, in the last month, and still his mother intends him for the pulpit.

Here is a good business-like epitaph: "Here lies Jane Smith, wife of Thomas Smith, marble cutter. This monument was erected by her husband as a tribute to her memory and a specimen of his work. Monuments of the same style $250."

The World states that justifiable homicide is now held to include "the cases of every man who kills any other man on account of any woman, and of every woman who kills any man on any account whatever." This is about true.

Theodore Hook was asked to review a book called "Three Words to the Drunkard." "Oh, my dear fellow, that I will do in three words. Pass the bottle!"

The Way "to minister to a mind diseased" is to take Peruvian Syrup, a protected solution of the protoxide of iron, which gives strength and vigor to the whole system, restores the digestive organs to perfect health, thereby restoring the mind to its natural vigor.
